Our Certifications

Safety Management Systems, Inc. is a certified Women-Owned Small Business. We are certified federally and with the following agencies:

- Women-Owned Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC)
- New York City
- Port Authority of New York and New Jersey
- Westchester County

Our Team

The company was founded by Christien Ducker in 2004, and she has remained the CEO. Half of the team are women, including the VP of Marketing, VP of Customer Service, and Senior Accounting Manager.

Benefit to Clients

Our WBE status has helped clients win government contracts. For example, cities like New York City require companies they work with to do business with a percentage of women-owned businesses.

“SMS360 is the only women-owned environmental health and safety software (SaaS) company. SMS360 helps its global client base to streamline, automate, and digitize safety and compliance processes.”
